

Winton House Newsletter

January 2024

Issue 7

Welcome all to our first issue of Winton House's Newsletter of 2024.

January 2024

We have started the year focusing on what our residents had enjoyed the most during 2023, and after speaking to everyone, they all agreed arts and crafts is an overall favourite.

The residents asked, and we delivered, so please enjoy this month's newsletter, jam-packed art!

New Deputy & Head Of Activities

Lorraine, Head of Activities

Lucia, Deputy Manager

We have some very exciting news to share with you all, we have two new additions to our team, Lucia Bica and Lorraine Humphrey.

Lucia is the home's new Deputy Manager and Lorraine will be the new Head of Activities. Both have already made such a difference to our team and brought so much joy to our residents.

Creative Mojo Art

Every month, our residents are greeted by Creative Mojo who provide new and relevant artwork for everyone to do.

Whether it's painting on a template or free hand, our residents really get to show off their artistic side especially with this month's theme in celebration of the Chinese New Year!

Personalised Coasters & Paintings

To start off the month, we simply took out all the paints, brushes and aprons, and let our residents take control of their morning activities, allowing each of them to get creative without the pressure of following any instructions and told them to do only what they wanted to and how their imaginations' ran wild!

Monkey Drum Making

As mentioned before, we in activities wanted to try new things and thanks to our new Head of Activities, Lorraine, she had the wonderful idea of incorporating music into our art and crafts and what's better than musical instruments.

Our residents took part in creating their very own monkey drums, which some may Remember from their youth; and some have even gifted what they made to their young family to grow up playing like they once had!

Hedgehog Crafting

Another one of Lorraine's brilliant ideas, was to make hedgehogs out of autumn leaves and a bit of cardboard.

Such a simple and easy task but looks fantastic and all the residents loved it!

Pictionary

Sometimes we have days where not everyone feels like they want to join in, and we don't discourage them to do so, as this allows their independence. However, there will always be the few that do come down to join and although there aren't enough people for the games they are used to, we acknowledge that there are many activities that can be person centered around each resident and their specific needs which is why we have started doing some Pictionary, allowing those who wish to draw and those who choose not to, join in together with laughter and no judgement.

Flower Arranging

Pantomime – ALADIN

Oh no its not! Oh yes it was, this year's annual pantomime was the Disney classic, Aladin. Filled with laughs, singing, dancing and what's a pantomime without some slapstick comedy? Our residents were given the opportunity to watch Windsor's calamitous comic, Kevin Cruise and of course the nation's favorite fox, Basil Brush. Our residents had so much fun joining in with all the songs, laughing and smiling so much, their cheeks hurt!
